

Getting Started

1. Click on the short introductory video to familiarize yourself with the purpose and features of the Leadership System.

The screenshot shows the SAS Leadership System homepage. The header includes the SAS logo, navigation links for Professional Development, Resources, and Connect With Others, and a Partners button. A user profile for Susie Teacher MySAS is visible in the top right. The main content area features the title "Getting Started With the SAS Leadership System" and a welcome message. A video player is embedded on the right, showing a play button and a progress bar, and is highlighted with a red border. Below the video player, there are five yellow stars and a play button icon.

To begin, set your personal preferences by following the directions in the My Leadership Focus and Organizational Data Analysis sections of this manual. Taking the time to complete your preferences will ensure that you gain access to the most relevant and useful information for you and your organization. Please note that you may change or update your preferences at any time. You will have the ability to select the type(s) of notifications that you wish to receive, as well as how frequently you wish to receive them.
